SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS The Union, commenting upon the prediction of the New York Express that "the ticket that will succeed in Pennsylvania in October is a Fillmore ticket, and the result will be a Fillmore success," says:

"Under no possible contingency can a Fillmore ticket be elected in Pennsylvania. To assert otherwise is to betray an ignorance of the Express cannot be justly charged. From what section or faction, party or parties, are the votes to come which are to secure Pennsylvania for Mr Fillmore? Whatever strength Mr. Fillmore may possess-and we have not the slightest desire to under-estimate it-is derived from the Whigs and the Know Nothings. The Know Nothing strength was made with fully three fourths of the Whigs of Pennsylvania, which, with Democrats who had been deluded into the secret order, formed a total large enough to defeat the Democracy in 1854 by an overwhelming majority We speak in the past tense, for the Know Nothing party of 1856 is but the shadow of the victorious organization of 1854. Most of the Democrats who belonged to it are now fighting under the Buchanan flag; the same proportion of Whigs are now converts to Black Republicanism; and so general has been the defection, that there is not a single candidate for Congress in the field, in any part of the State, who is willing to trust his chances for an election to the unaided efforts of Know Nothings. Whatever there is of strength or vitality in the Know Nothing party of Pennsylvania, is mainly derived from the old Native American element, and that element is confined to some four or five counties, and was never of formidable character out of Philadelphia."

The Union concludes :

"It is to us a matter of small consequence whether the enemies of Democracy are to be met in Pennsylvania singly or combined, for Mr. Buchanan's majority on the popular vote of the State will be numbered by tens of thousands; but it is a matter of consequence that the voters in that State should be made aware of the infamous fact that the Fillmore ticket which has been presented to them for their suffrages is mainly composed of the most devoted friends of John C. Fremont.'

The Union, speaking of the fact that the present Presidential contest has been distinguished beyond all others by the large participation of Southern speakers in the canvass in the Northern States, says:

the labors of southern speakers at the North have disenchanted the eyes and understandings of thousands who had listened too readily to the falsehoods of designing agitators."

The Intelligencer, in assigning its reasons tor declining to publish communications in which the writers undertake not only to discuss the apprehended dangers which now environ the stability of the Union, but also to calculate its respective value to the Northern and Southern portions of the Confederacy, appetite, seized upon the article of the Star.

"We have little disposition to encourage a controversy which, having its origin in temporary bitterness and exacerbation of sectional feeling, we would rather seek to compose than to aggravate by adding fresh fuel to its flames : and least of all can we, as at present advised, encourage it by the propagation of arguments which, whether intended to evince the disadvantages of the Union either to the North or to the South, seem to us equally fallacious, because equally misdirected. The present prosperity of the country is a sufficient answer to all who would seek to disturb its repose: for what interests, we may ask, of either section are suffering from any evils of more than ordinary and usual magnitude under all governments devised and managed by mon, and therefore subject to human infirmity?

THE FRIGHTPUL ACCIDENT AT THE FAIR AT DELAWARE, OHIO .- A machine called "Rumley s Patent Rotary Piston Engine" was on exhibition, and at the time was grinding corn. It being the chief attraction for the time being, vast crowds surrounded it watching its execuploded, making fearful havoc in the surrou ing masses. For some minutes the immediate spot was enveloped in a thick cloud of steam, ashes and dust, during which nothing was heard but confused shricks of terror and anguish from the wounded and dying. When the steam settled away, it disclosed a sight ployed in the survey of that noble sheet of party. Pennsylvania was the great battle shocking to the heart What, then, were the water, and was selected to convey the Comfeelings of methers and daughters who saw their friends and relations stricken dead beside them, or writhing in the agonies of dissolation, or who were tortured with that sickening doubt whether the unrecognizable corpses were not those of their dear friends-these feelings are better imagined than penned. The entire engine was blown from the spot, the boiler itself crushing to death a lady some seventy feet from its former position. Many persons were scalded, many were wounded slightly, and many will soon die.

It was ascertained that fourteen were killed on the spot-some of these were so mangled as yet to remain unrecognizable. Four or five ladies are in this number. Several were among the best citizens of the place.

DISTURBANCES AT THE MORNON MEETING .-At a meeting held by the Mormons, at Brook' Assembly Rooms, New York, on Sunday night, while Judge Appleby was in the act of defending the leading doctrines of his sect, especially polygamy, a young man apparently English, rose, and in his excitement, flatly contradicted the Elder, by calling out, "you are a liar!" A tumult immediately ensued. The whole audience rose en masse, and certainly would have inflicted summary punishment upon the intruder, had he not been forcibly withdrawn by a friend who was with him. The young man stated that he had been in vice as can scarcely be imagined, and believing the statement of Judge Appleby calculated to lead the unwary astray, made this counWASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP.

Duel Prevented -We mentioned yesterday that a telegraphic dispatch had been received from Richmond, Va, by Captain Baggott, chief of Police, announcing that Messrs. Roger A Pryor of the Richmond Enquirer, and Beverly B. Botts, son of John M. Botts, had left that city for this vicinity, it was supposed for the purpose of fighting a duel. The Mayor and the police department of this city were actively engaged yesterday in taking measures to frustrate the contemplated duel. Officers were dispatched to meet Officer Tyler of Richmond, (who it had been telegraphed, was coming on in pursuit of the parties) at the Southern boat on its arrival, in order to afford him every facility; and during the politics of that State of which we believe the day officers were dispatched to the three different points at which it was apprehended the meeting might take place Information, received at a late hour last night, led the officers to believe that the arrangements for a duel, at an early hour this morning, had been completed. Accordingly, up of the old Native American organization, at 4 o'clock this morning, Officers Tyler of Richmond, and Officers Keese, Yeatman, and Reynolds, of this city, started towards the suspected point of meeting. By a ruse, they succeeded, without exciting suspicion, in keeping within sight of the carriage of the surgeon of one of the parties, who preceded them, in the direction of the pine woods in the vicinity of Francis P. Blair's residence. Separating, and surrounding these woods, the officers discovered, and, after something of a chase, succeeded in arresting, the friends of Mr. Pryor, (who had arrived first on the ground,) and, finally, Mr. Pryor himself, who for a time succeeded in eluding the pursuit of the officers.

> Shortly before 7 o'clock (the hour at which the duel was to have come off,) a hack drove up with Mr. Botts and friends, who were also arrested, and both parties were brought back to this city and taken before Justice Goddard, where they bound themselves not to commit a breach of the peace in this District, and to deliver themselves in charge of Officer Tyler at the Southern boat this evening.

Mr. T. P. Chismond acted as the second of Mr. Pryor, and Mr. Francis J. Smith as the second of Mr. Botts.

"Office-nothing but Office."-Several days ago we conclusively proved the fact, that, if it were true the delegates to the recent Whig National Convention were altogether untainted with Know Nothingism-as was maintained "We have abundant cause to know that by the National Intelligencer and other newspaper: -they would be excluded from "all political offices" in the possible event only of Mr. Fillmore's election to the Presidency, as the Know Nothing order (in the third degree) requires its members to "vote for and support for all political offices third or Union degree members in preference to all

The Richmond Whig has, with ravenous and thereupon comments in a manner which shows its gastronomic instincts. The Whig does not, however, deny the truth of our assertion relative to the exclusion of the Whigs from "office or preferment," were "it possible for Mr. Fillmore to be elected by hook or by crock;" or, we may now add, in any other

The Richmond editor informs us of an important truth-namely, that the Whigs of Baltimore were engaged in "a great political canvass from motives purely unselfish and disinterested!" And, judging from the virtuous indignation expressed by our contemporary, we must place the Whig in the same category; a position, however, which, it will now for the first time occupy !"

Now, if these Whigs are "purely unselfish and disinterested"-more patriotic than their neighbors-one would suppose that from their number, in the possible event only to which we have above alluded, might be selected safe advisers and altogether competent executive officers; but, according to the third or Union degree, they could not be selected for office so long as there were persons who had subscribed to that degree, ro matter however unworthy! for the ritual makes no distinction as to qualifications between individuals It is well for our Whig friend to have a good opinion of himself and a bad one of those against whom he and his party are in hostile array; hence his brief, but sweeping assertion, so confidently paraded, that while the Demoat this port, administered during his absence | crats are "Swiss and fight for plunder," the by Mr. Thomas Savage The numerous Whigs "are patriots, and battle for country friends secured by Mr. Robertson since he has from a love of country " "The difference." from a love of country." "The difference," he remarks, "is very material," and so it would be if the assertion had for its founds. tion something more reliable than the mere dictum of the Richmond editor!

The United States Ship Vandalia .- We recently announced that this vessel, the rearguard of the Japan squadron, had arrived at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, after an absence of nearly four years. The New York Journal of Commerce says that nine months was the longest consecutive period she remained at any one port, and that was at Shanghai. She was present at the bembardment, assault, and capture of that celebrated city, and, during the whole of her stay there, maintained on shore a guard of seamen and marines, to preserve the neutrality of the foreign settlement, tion, when, from some cause, the boiler ex- and protect the persons and property of Amerloan residents from being injured in the struggle then waging between the Chinese im perialists and insurgents.

In the bay of Jedo, she was actively emmissioners to Uraga, where the preliminaries of negotiation were arranged.

This ship also assisted to exterminate the hordes of pirates that infect the Chinese waters. Upon one occasion, while lying at anchor, becalmed, in the delta of the Pearl river, near Hong Kong, some of these miscreants were seen boarding and plundering trading junks, almost within range of her broadside. Three boats were instantly lowered, and manned by a party of scamen and marines, under the command of Lieut John Walcutt, who went in pursuit. The pirates, lalen with booty, took to an island about two miles distant, where they er sconced themselves behind some precipitous rocks, and kept up a continuous fire upon the advancing boats. The Vandalia's dashed on through a shower of grape and musket balls, landed, scaled the rocks, routed out the nest of rascals, and killed and wounded an unknown number. whereupon the rest escaped to the jungle. The work of destruction was then completed by burning their junks and houses in the vicinity. Two prisoners were taken, who were Etah, and found such a den of wickedness and afterwards delivered to the Chinese authori ties. In this gallant affair, Lieut. Walcutt had only one man killed and one wounded.

An Appeal for the Union -The Honorable Robert J Walker recently addressed a powerful letter to the Democratic committee of Pittsburg, Pa., who invited him either to attend a public meeting in person, or to communicate his views on the perding presidential election. He has performed his duty, in complying with the latter part of the request, in a manner creditable to both his head and his heart. " I notice in the Detroit Tribune of the 26th, a long rigmarole, purporting to come from the Logansport Journal of the 'mobbing of Schuyler Colfax ' The whole affair is outand-out a 'Kansas lie.' Nothing of the kind ever occurred, as I know from the men who were on the grounds. There was a row between some boys and some Irishmen, and in the melee one man was shot in the leg, but it was not the result of any thing connected with politics, and happened long after Colfax had left the grounds.
